An Unwavering Conviction

“Following Jesus Christ was the sum of their entire existence. At the moment when life itself was on the line, nothing else mattered besides identifying themselves with Him...the name ‘Christian’ was much more than a religious designation...[it was] an entire new way of thinking—one that had serious implications for how they lived—and ultimately how they died.” --John MacArthur

An Unmistakable Commission

“God’s plan for His church is for the people on the inside to take the message to the people on the outside. The Great Commission is not an invitation for outsiders to come and hear, but for the insiders to go and tell.”
